

Driven to Care

There are people in your community who surely can use some help, so here's a great opportunity to show them your support.

First: Identify people in need in your community. This could be a shelter needing blankets, a food bank needing replenished, a children's hospital needing new games, an animal sanctuary needing food, or anyone you know could use a lending hand.

Second: Check with administration to make sure you're allowed to host a class or school-wide drive to help that organization.

Third: Advertise what you are collecting and when the collection will take place.

Fourth: Collect the items. An easy way to increase participation is to offer a reward to the student or class that collects the most. This could be donuts, a certificate, or even a pizza party.

Fifth: Drop off your donations to your group.
